The global recession has impacted the offshore oil and gas industry and consequently the line market through the softening of energy demand and a reduction in available credit. The fifth edition highlights the return of liquidity and the hesitant signs of pick-up within the market and forecasts a steady growth of 6% over the next five years.

The Pipelines & Control Lines Market:
Since 2008, operators’ short term strategies and forecast spends have been downgraded with the weakening energy demand and lack of available credit. The global recession has had many impacts on the market, and as such the industry will still feel the effects of this ‘down turn’ for the short term future. However, with signs of a ‘pick up’, there is still much potential for growth in the next five years and more.

Pipeline and control line installations have mirrored the trends of the greater offshore oil and gas industry; indicative of their crucial use in the development of hydrocarbon reserves worldwide.

Infield expects pipeline and control line capital expenditure to exceed US $269bn over the next five years. This equates to 79,799km of lines, of which 55,900km will be pipelines and 23,899km will be control lines. Combined, pipeline and control line installations are expected to see relatively steady growth in the next five years, equating to a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of over 6%. The previous five years did not see such a high growth – predominantly effected by the downturn.

A global pick-up is expected, however in some cases extended growth is different depending on the market sector, field developments and energy requirements of each region.

The SURF market sector is expected to overtake the conventional line market in the forecast period for the first time. The significant growth in the SURF market is driven by a number of large regional developments, including long subsea gas tiebacks in North West Australia, deepwater block developments in Angola, flexible installations in the pre-salt basins of Brazil and numerous subsea tiebacks in Asia and Europe. Whilst this growth is indicative of the industry’s trend to discover and develop deeper water reserves, the shallow water developments still hold potential. This is highlighted by the continued strength of the conventional pipeline installation market, all be it at slower growth rates than that of the SURF market.

The trunk/export lines sector will represent the highest percentage growth rate amongst all sectors. Whilst this growth characterises the increasing global demand to diversify the location and type of energy supplies, installation of trunk lines is highly dependent on a number of political, environmental and economical factors. As such, trunk/export lines represent the most volatile section of the pipeline market, and will likely be the most widely affected by the global downturn and the subsequent ‘pick up’.

Control lines represent just 30% of the installation market in the forecast period. Growth in this market is mainly attributable to an increase in umbilical installations. Additionally, growth in power lines will begin to influence the market; including lines which are directly associated with the production end of the offshore oil and gas industry and the inter-regional distribution of the power it generates.
Purchasers of the Global Perspectives Pipelines & Control Lines Market Update will receive 12 months' free access to Pipelines Online. Pipelines Online lists major control line and pipeline projects being installed in the current year and four years forward.

Details about each project include:
- Operators
- Project Name (Route)
- Product
- Type
- Weight Coat
- Length / Diameter
- Lay Type
- Vessel Type
- Water Depth

Major projects include: pipelines of 50Km in length and over; pipelines of 16” diameter and greater and 12.5Km in length and over; control lines of 28Km in length and over. (Please note that the report forecasts are for all lengths of control lines and all lengths and diameters of pipelines and flowlines, it is only the online data set access that is restricted).

Subscriptions can be upgraded to include other pipelines and control lines of all lengths and diameters or other data sets on the Infield Offshore Pipelines Online database.

The Infield Worldwide Offshore Database provides detailed and up to date information about all offshore fields, worldwide. The earliest project on Infield is Bibi Eibat which came on stream in 1923 in Azerbaijan. The furthest ahead are decommissioning projects not expected to proceed for several decades.

Infield comprises 8,800 offshore fields in 103 countries, involving over 950 operators and more than 1,600 participant companies. Infield is updated daily so clients can expect to be kept informed of new information as and when it happens.

Using Infield PDF Publications With The FileOpen System

Infield Systems Limited makes available their Global & Regional Perspective publications in PDF format through the FileOpen System for sharing electronic files. The FileOpen System registers your computer on their server and every time you open a shared PDF it “pings” the server to check for permission rights to the file that is being opened. If you are permitted to open the file then it will open as normal.

The system is straightforward to use, however, it is important that you make sure you can download the File Open Plugin before you request a report in PDF.

Adobe Versions:

File Open will work with versions of Adobe Acrobat and Adobe Professional 7 and beyond. If you are using Adobe Acrobat 7 and Adobe Professional 7 you will have problems printing the reports, so if you can we recommend to the latest version available, which can be downloaded from http://www.adobe.com.

Downloading Your Report:

1. You can download your report from http://www.infieldlive.com/infieldlive. Save the report to your local hard disk. Do not try and open it yet!

Registration of Your Computer:

2. You need to download the FileOpen Plugin which is a JAPPLET file. This is a Java Applet component of a software application. You can download it from http://plugin.fileopen.com/

   You will need administrator rights to your computer, so you may need your system administrator to install the plugin for you if you do not have administrator rights. If you system administrator will not install the plugin then please contact the Infield Team for advice.

3. One you have installed the FileOpen Plugin you must complete the registration process by clicking on the PDF that was attached to your registration email. You must be online and we recommend that you do this from your usual place of work. As part of the registration process your IP Address you are registering from is associated with your account. You will then see a PDF document saying that the computer has been successfully registered.

4. Open up Adobe Acrobat or Adobe Reader and go File > Open > open the report. If you get an error message saying that your computer is not registered to open the document, retry steps 2 and 3 above. If that does not work please contact the Infield Team.

5. Once you have opened the report, you can open it as many times as you wish on the registered computer, from the IP Address location you registered the report. If you are travelling and are offline or are at a different IP Address location you will have a period of 30 days that you can open and review the report before you have to open the report online again to “ping” the FileOpen Server which refreshes the document registration. This has to be done from the IP Address where you registered your computer in order to refresh your account settings.

Printing The Report:

6. You can print the reports and depending upon the licence you have purchased you have a limited number of print runs. The default licence is a single print. Infield reports are usually landscape can be printed double sided (duplex printing) which is “flipped” so when the report is bound you can see both pages together. If you do not have duplex printing capability then you can print the report single sided.

7. The first time you open the report you sometimes cannot see the print menu. This is because the file has not “pinged” the FileOpen Server correctly. The simple solution is to close the report, close and reopen Adobe and then open the file again as described above. The print menu should be available now, if it is not then please contact the Infield Team.

8. “My report will not print in colour when I print double sided.” This is a specific problem with Adobe Acrobat Reader 9 which duplex print settings applied during the print job. The workaround is to set duplex print as the printer default.

Changing Computers & Registered Users:

9. If you change computers or wish to change the registered user for the report then please contact the Infield Team to issue a new registration and cancel the old one.

(h) “Quotation” means the document issued to the Client by Infield that sets out the description of the Service that will be provided by Infield and the Charges that will be charged for the Service.
(i) “Service” means the service or product which Infield will provide to the Client on a subscription or fee paying basis for the Term, the main features of such Service being set out in the Quotation and any special terms applicable to it being set out in the Schedule attached.
(j) “Term” means the period commencing on the Contract Date and ending on the date determined under paragraph 5 below.
(k) “Third Party” means any person, firm or company which is not Infield or the Client. For the avoidance of doubt any parent company, wholly or partly owned subsidiary company or associated company of the Client and any contractor or consultant engaged by the Client is a Third Party for the purposes of these Terms and Conditions and the Contract.

2. APPLICABLE CONDITIONS
(a) Unless otherwise agreed in writing by Infield these Conditions shall override and exclude any terms or conditions stipulated, incorporated or referred to by the Client whether in any order or in any correspondence or negotiations occurring prior to the Contract Date.
(b) The commencement of the provision of the Service shall be deemed conclusive evidence of the Client’s acceptance of these Conditions.
(c) Infield’s employees and representatives are not entitled to commit Infield to provide the Service on terms differing from the specific provisions of these Conditions unless such employees or representatives are able to produce to the Client authorities so to do signed by a duly authorised director of Infield.
(d) The Client agrees with Infield that it will not, and that it will procure that any employee, agent or sub-contractor of the Client will not, directly or indirectly and whether alone or in conjunction with any other person, firm or company, during the Term and for a period of 12 months after the Term has come to an end for any reason, canvass or solicit the employment of or endeavour to entice away from Infield any employee or director of Infield with whom the Client had contact or with whom the Client dealt in connection with the provision by Infield to the Client of the Service.
(e) These Conditions and the Contract to which they apply shall be construed and applied in accordance with English law and the English courts shall have sole jurisdiction in any dispute relating thereto.

3. THE SERVICE
(a) Infield will supply the Service to the Client throughout the Term in consideration of the Client paying to Infield the Charges.
(b) The Client will provide such assistance as Infield may reasonably request to assist Infield to provide the Service to the Client and will appoint and notify Infield of a person to be the Client’s authorised representative with whom Infield should consult in connection with the provision of the Service.
(c) The Client shall not use the Service for any improper or unlawful purpose and the Client and the Client shall comply at all times with the terms of the Contract. The Client will use the Service only for its own internal purposes and in any use of data derived from the Service the Client will ensure that its source is appropriately acknowledged. The Client will comply with any reasonable instructions which Infield may from time to time issue relating to the Service.
(d) The Client shall not in any way reverse engineer, disassemble or decompile any data or any part of any data provided by Infield as part of the Service except to the extent and for the express purpose authorised in writing by Infield.
(e) The Client shall not pass on any part of the Service or any information or analysis derived from the Service to a Third Party without the express written authorisation of a director of Infield. If authorisation is granted to the Client for any part of the Service or for information or analysis derived from the Service to be passed to a Third Party, the Client undertakes to include the following reference, “Data source: Infield Systems Limited, London.”

4. PAYMENT TERMS
(a) Unless otherwise agreed in writing the Client will pay to Infield the Charges as specified in the Quotation. Infield will issue VAT invoices for all such Charges.
(b) If the Client fails to make any payment within 30 days of the due date then, without prejudice to any other right or remedy available to Infield, Infield shall be entitled to cancel the Contract or suspend the provision of the Service, and any amount not paid to Infield by the due date for payment shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum above the base rate of Lloyds FSB Bank plc from time to time, accruing from day to day, from the date of invoice until payment is actually made.
(c) Infield will review its prices at least once in every year and may review its prices more frequently than that. Infield reserves the right to increase the Charges at any time to take account of any increase in the cost to Infield of labour, materials or overheads.
(d) If the Client requests Infield to provide any additional elements to the Service over and above those specified in the Schedule attached Infield shall be entitled to increase the Charges payable by the Client to take account of such additional elements of the Service provided and such increased Charges shall be payable by the Client to Infield forthwith upon Infield giving notice thereof to the Client.
(e) All rates and charges specified in any Quotation, these Conditions and the Schedule attached, or in any other documentation, are quoted exclusive of VAT which shall be payable at the rate prevailing.
at the time, and unless otherwise specified, such rates and charges are quoted exclusive of delivery charges, bank charges, currency conversions and commissions, import duties, taxes or any other such charges, which are the responsibility of the Client.

(c) Infield reserves the right to refuse the Client credit and demand payment prior to supply of the Service.

5. TERMINATION
(a) Unless terminated under any other provision of these Conditions, the Contract shall continue in force unless and until terminated by either party by giving to the other party at any time not less than three months' notice in writing provided that in the case of the Service being supplied on an annual basis such notice shall expire on an anniversary of the Contract Date.

(b) In addition to termination under any other provision of these Conditions, Infield shall be entitled to terminate the provision of the Service immediately by giving notice to the Client in the event that the Client has committed a material breach of the provisions of the Contract provided always that in the case of a breach which is capable of remedy Infield shall have identified the breach concerned and requested that the Client remedy it and the Client shall not have remedied the breach within the period of thirty days from being notified of the breach concerned.

(c) In addition to termination under any other provision of these Conditions, Infield shall be entitled to terminate the provision of the Service where the Client undergoes a change of control within the meaning of section 416 of the Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988.

(d) Upon termination of the Contract any outstanding Charges must be paid in full forthwith by the Client to Infield.

6. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS
(a) The Client acknowledges and agrees that all rights, title and interest in the Service, all information supplied as part of the Service and all software and systems used in the Service are owned by Infield and nothing in the Contract shall confer on the Client any right of ownership of the Service, the information supplied or of any such software and systems.

(b) Infield grants to the Client a licence during the Term to use information provided as part of the Service for the Client's own internal purposes only and subject to the limitations set out in the Quotation. Such Licence may be terminated by Infield at any time by giving notice accordingly to the Client.

7. FORCE MAJEURE
Infield shall not be liable for any failure of performance of the Service or for any interruption in the provision of the Service for any reason beyond Infield's reasonable control including but not limited to the failure of power supply, strikes or lock out, act of God, war, riot, explosion, abnormal weather conditions, fire, flood, government action, delay by suppliers, accidents, shortage of materials or labour, or computer failure.

8. LIABILITY
(a) Save as expressly provided in these Conditions all warranties, conditions or other terms implied by statute or common law are hereby excluded to the maximum extent permissible by law.

(b) Infield shall have no limit on its liability for death or personal injury caused by Infield’s negligence or the negligence of any of its employees acting in the course of their employment or agents or sub-contractors acting within the course of their contracts.

(c) Subject to paragraph 8(b) Infield shall have no liability to the Client in contract, tort (including negligence or breach of statutory duty) or otherwise howsoever and whatever the cause thereof for any increased costs or expenses, for any loss of profit, business, contracts, revenues or anticipated savings, or for any special, indirect or consequential loss or damage of any nature whatsoever.

(d) Subject to paragraph 8(b) and notwithstanding anything contained in these Conditions, Infield’s liability in contract, tort (including negligence or breach of statutory duty) or otherwise arising by reason of or in connection with the provision of the Service shall be limited to a sum equivalent to the Charges payable by the Client in the year during which such liability arises.

(e) If in the course of the provision of the Service Infield provides forecasts or data of a forward-looking nature, Infield shall have no liability for the accuracy or completeness of any such data or forecasts.

(f) In the case of the provision of the Service electronically the Client accepts responsibility for the compatibility of the Service with the Client’s systems and at the Client’s own risk.

(g) In the case of the provision of the Service via the Internet Infield cannot guarantee Client accessibility 100% of the time.

9. INDEMNITY
The Client will indemnify Infield fully against all claims, losses, liabilities, costs (including legal costs) and expenses which Infield may suffer or incur as a result of any breach by the Client of its obligations under the Contract or as a result of any misuse of the Service by the Client.

10. CONFIDENTIALITY
Each of Infield and the Client shall keep confidential and not use without the prior written consent of the other all Confidential Information of or supplied by the other and shall not divulge the same to any third party except to the extent disclosure of the same is required by law or by any governmental or other regulatory body. Each of Infield and the Client will protect Confidential Information of the other with precautions at least as great as those taken to protect its own Confidential Information. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to any Confidential Information which is or becomes public through no fault of the party receiving that Confidential Information or was in the possession of the receiving party at the date of disclosure.

11. NOTICES
(a) Any notice which must be given under the Contract must be in writing and may either be delivered personally or posted.

(b) Notice given by post must be pre-paid and correctly addressed to the recipient company at its registered office.

(c) A notice delivered personally is deemed served upon delivery.

(d) A posted notice which complies with paragraph 11(b) above is deemed served on the second business day after the day of posting for UK domestic mail and on the fifth day after the day of posting for international mail.

12. GENERAL
(a) Neither party shall assign or otherwise dispose of any part of its rights or obligations under the Contract without the prior written consent of the other.

(b) The headings are for convenience only and shall not be used to interpret these Conditions.
